

14th International Symposium on Mechanisms of VasoDilatation

SPONSORSHIP INVITATION

Dear Colleagues,

The International Symposium on Mechanisms of VasoDilatation (MOVD) was initiated by Paul M Vanhoutte in 1977, aiming to gather international investigators to discuss the contemporary topics on vascular biology, pharmacology and medicine. Since then, the MOVD meetings have been held in different continents and are usually attended by 300 to 600 active participants from all around the world.

The 14th International Symposium on Mechanisms of VasoDilatation (MOVD2021) will be held in Hong Kong on November 26-29, 2021. The MOVD2021 will provide a unique opportunity for scientists, young researchers and students to communicate with a diverse audience. A summary of topics to be covered is available under the “Programme” at www.movd2021.hku.hk.

We encourage commercial companies, research institutes and universities to take advantage of this symposium for corporate exposure and marketing opportunities to professionals in the field, and contribute to the success of this event by supporting the organization of the 14th International Symposium on Mechanisms of VasoDilatation (MOVD2021).

Please review the list below of Sponsorship Opportunities and we will be happy to coordinate your participation in the conference.

Sincerely

MOVD2021 Organizing Committee

Local members - Yu Wang (Chair), Susan WS Leung and Yu Huang
